

The New Toy

This book belongs to:

Here is a boy. He wants a toy.

Where can he go? He wants to know.

You can get a toy from a shop. It is too far to hop.

He rides a train. It starts to rain.

The boy gets to the shop. He buys a new top.

The rain is done, out comes the sun! He has

The advertisement features a product box for 'Little Reader' on the left. The box is purple and white, with a photo of a smiling child. Several flashcards are shown in front of the box, including one with the word 'bébé' and another with a picture of a red apple. A large, pink, star-shaped graphic with the word 'FREE' in white is overlaid on the bottom right of the box. To the right of the box, the text 'The most powerful tool available to teach your child to read!' is written in pink. Below this text, the website 'www.brillkids.com' is written in pink. At the bottom right of the box, there is a list of features with green checkmarks: 'Easy to use flash cards and program', 'Includes a ready-to-play book', 'Customizable content for your child', 'Expandable library with 100+ words', and 'Multilingual resources'.
