II- Comprehension

Everyone dreams , but some people never recall their dreams, or do so very rarely. Other people always wake-up with rich collections of their dreams, though they forget them very quickly.

Scientists can detect when soemone is having a dream by using an instrument which measures the electrical waves in the brain. Breathing and pulse rate also increase. Dreams take the form of stories, but they may be strange and with incidents not connected; most of them about people and things we know. Vision seems an essential part of dreams , except for people blind from birth. Sound and touch are senses also often aroused. In normal dreams, the dreamer may be taking part , or be only an observer. But he cannot control what happens in the dream.

II- Comprehension

Centuries ago, world population was low, cities were small and there were few factories. A little smoke rising into the air, or some household rubbish thrown into a river or a lake, didn't matter very much.

But now, the world population is large and is growing rapidly. Moreover, we are encouraged to use more things. So, we manufacture more, causing more pollution. Many products are now made of plastic: we can't destroy them when no longer need them without causing even more pollution.

Cars and other vehicles choke roads. We breathe in their exhaust fumes daily. Countless generating stations and factories fill the atmosphere with gases and dump their poisoned waste into rivers and oceans.

II- Comprehension (5 Marks)

Read the following passage, then answer the questions below:

Some people say they have no memory at all. But of course we all have a memory. Our memory tells us who we are. Our memory helps us to make use in the present of what we have learnt in the past.

In fact we have different types of memory. For example, our visual memory helps us recall faces and places. Some people have such a strong visual memory, they use it to remember exactly what they have seen, for example, pages of a book, as a complete picture.

Our verbal memory helps us remember words and figures we may have heard but not seen written: items of shopping list, a chemical formula, dates or a recipe.

With our emotional memory, we recall situations or places where we had strong feelings, perhaps of happiness or unhappiness. We also have special memories for smell, taste, touch and sound , and for performing physical movements.

II- Comprehension

An earthquake is a trembling of the earth's surface. Earthquakes are caused by natural forces within the earth itself. When the earth's plates move, they cause great force leading to an earthquake.

About a million earthquakes are recorded each year, but the majority cause little or no damage. Cities are in great danger, particularly if they are built on soft ground. Most deaths and injuries are caused by collapsing buildings or the fires that often follow.

Strange as it may seem, a skyscraper may be the safest place to be in the earthquake. Many skyscrapers have been left standing after major earthquakes. This is because a skyscraper is built on a steel framework which can sway in the trembling rather as a tree in the wind.

Most earthquakes occur under the ocean bed. Many of them are harmless, but sometimes tidal waves are set up on the surface which grow to become walls of water causing great damage to coastal cities.

A: Choose the correct answer from a, b and c: (4 x ½ = 2 m)

1- The best title for this article is

- a) tidal waves b) safe scrapers c) dangers of earthquakes d) soft ground

2- The underlined word "sway" means

- a) move from side to side b) stand in one place c) fall down d) die

3- The underlined pronoun them refers to

- a) oceans b) waves c) earthquakes d) beds

4- The main idea of the first paragraph is

- a) injuries b) causes of earthquakes c) trembling surface d) moving planets

B) Mark (√) or (x) next to each statement: (3 x 1 = 3 m)

II- Comprehension

Overweight is a serious problem. Many people in Kuwait suffer from overweight. The reason is that they eat too much food without practising exercises or having a diet. When we eat too much, the extra food is stored as fats instead of burning up as energy. Overweight people try hard to be slim but they don't do so in the right way, why? They buy different kinds of food and medicine prepared specially for slimming. These food and medicine are very expensive and rarely make them fitter.

The right way to be slim is to eat less and do exercises. When a person eats less and does exercises, the body is forced to burn up the fats which are stored under the skin, however it's dangerous to eat less.

To keep fit and healthy, you should eat less starchy نشويات food such as bread, potatoes, rice, macaroni, sugary food like cake and chocolate. Fish, eggs, milk, green vegetables and fresh fruit will make you healthy and slim because they contain the vitamins , minerals , fats and proteins . This is what we call "The balanced diet".

A)-Choose the best completion from a, b and c:

1- The best title for this passage is -----.

- a) fast food b) keeping fit c) kinds of food d) starchy

2-The word practising in line two means -----

II- Comprehension

No one ever expected the little Thomas Edison to be the man with countless inventions except his father. As usual his genius was taken by his teachers for madness. Most of the child's experiments often ended in a fire, a good beating from his father and depriving from his pocket money. One night, his mother suddenly fell ill and because his father was absent, the child called a doctor who examined the lady and said that she needed urgent surgical operation. But the light being dim, he would not be able to operate and prepared to leave. The child grew mad and begged the doctor to wait. He quickly ran to the barber's shop nearby and got a big mirror. He then brought all the oil lamps found in the house and lit them in front of the mirror.

Amazed by the child, the doctor performed a successful operation. While he was carrying the mirror back to the barber's, it fell and broke into pieces. So the barber beat him severely. When his father came back, Thomas told him the whole story and together went to the barber, paid him fourteen dollars he demanded for the mirror and paid him back the beating he gave to his son.

II- Comprehension (8 Marks)

Read the following passage then answer the questions below:

Many things we use every day to go from place to place move on wheels. For example, the bus, the motor bike, the car and many others move on wheels. One of the things that move on wheels is the bicycle. Bicycles are important for both young people and the grown ups . People use them for fun and work all over the world. The history of the bike is interesting. In 1818,the bicycle had no pedals. The pedals were added in 1839. The pedals made them move faster than the old ones. More speed was possible by making the front wheel very large, but such bicycles were dangerous to ride. By 1900, most of the bicycle parts that we know today were developed. They include equal- sized wheels ,brakes to stop the bike, a chain connecting the pedals to the rear wheel, and various speeds. Bicycling is now an exciting sport and a means of moving around. Unlike other means of transport, the bicycle does not use petrol. This means that the bike keeps the air clean. Another good thing about the bike is that it doesn't need a big space to park. This is why in some big cities in the world, people can only ride bicycles.

A: From a, b and c choose the correct answer :(4 x 1/2 = 2 m)

- 1) The underlined word "they" refers toof the bicycle a-trains' parts b- cars' parts c- bicycle's parts
